

PHEASEY PARK FARM PRIMARY SCHOOL.

STATISTICAL DATA BASED ON FULL TIME CHILDREN

DESCRIPTION OF THE SCHOOL

Pheasey Park Farm Primary School is one of the largest primary schools in the country. The school is part of the Elston Hall Multi Academy Trust and is situated in Walsall Metropolitan borough, on the borders of Birmingham and Sandwell. The postal area is Birmingham and people tend to associate the school with the City rather than Walsall. Although the socio-economic area is near to the national average, the learning culture within the community is not one which has high academic aspirations. The number of pupils eligible for pupil premium funding is 119 (21% below national) but increasing. The number of pupils from minority ethnic groups and with EAL is increasing but remains below national. The proportion of pupils with SEN support/EHCP is below national. The deprivation index is below national average.
